

A “Top Ten” Research Faculty

Over the past quarter century, four journal articles have been published in which the authors tallied the numbers of refereed research articles that were published over several preceding years by faculty members in over 200 public administration programs across the U.S. In all four of those studies, The Askew School’s faculty ranked in the top ten most productive faculties in the nation. The studies and Askew School rankings are as follows:

• Douglas J. Watson, Wendy L. Hassett, Donna Milam Handley, “The ASPA Journals: Who Is Publishing?” Journal of Public Affairs Education, 11:1 (January 2005) 53-60. (Rankings based on the total number of articles published between 1993 to 2002 in 13 public administration journals.)
Most Productive University Faculties 1993-2002 - #4 Florida State
Universities with Most Student Publications 1993-2002 - #3 Florida State

• James W. Douglas,
“Faculty, Graduate Student and Graduate Productivity in Public Administration and Public Affairs Programs, 1986-1993” Public Administration Review, 56:5 (Sep/Oct 1996) 433-440. (Rankings based on study of articles published in 11 journals).
Most Productive University Faculties 1986-1993 - #7 Florida State
Universities with Most Student Publications 1986-1993 - #9 Florida State

• Forrester, John P. "Public administration productivity: an assessment of faculty in PA programs." Administration & Society 27.4 (February 1996): 537- 566. (Rankings based on a large number of journals, including sub-field journals.)
Publish most in the “best” journals - #6 Florida State
Publish most in all journals - #4 Florida State

• Jerome S. Legge, Jr. and James Devore, “Measuring Productivity in U. S. Public Administration and Public Affairs Programs 1981-1985.” Administration and Society, 19:2 (August 1987) 147- 156. ((Rankings based on study of articles published in 10 journals from 1981 through 1985.)
Most Productive University Faculties 1981-1985 - #2 Florida State